Sharing contacts and resources with the objective of empowering San Antonio. Networking is a powerful venue to channel information, create awareness and empower communities. Sharing My Contacts is my version of inspiration with bling."

Sharing My Contacts is a hub for resources in Bexar County. We welcome event information that creates awareness and empowerment in our communities.

If you would like to share a resource, an article, innovative research or a non-profit organization, please email me at sandra@sharingmycontacts.org .

A special thanks to those individuals and organizations that volunteer and inspire others.
